FRIDAY MORNING, AUG. 24, 1855.

Edgefield and Kentucky Railroad. This road, chartered by the Legislature of Tennessee, will constitute, in connection with the Henderson and Nashville railroad in Kentucky, a through line to the Ohio river, at the town of Henderson, about 140 miles from Nashville. The two roads, when completed, are, by agreement, to be united, under the name of the Henderson and Nashville Railroad Company. We are glad to learn that the difficulties in the way of the construction of these roads, the most important of which have been met within every section of the country, are in a fair way to be overcome. The delay they have produced, however, has been an advantage rather than an injury, inasmuch as the prices of iron, labor and provisions, are not now so great as heretofore, and the cost of the roads will thus be considerably diminished. Having recently got clear of a contract which had been entered into for the construction of the entire road, and which could not have been altogether carried out, although a good deal of work has been performed under it, the Kentucky Company have determined to re-let sixty miles on the first Monday in October. They have means enough, beyond all question, not only to grade the whole of this distance, but also to put the iron upon one half of it-and they will accomplish this in about a year from this time. Should they succeed in the effort they will make to pay onefourth or more of the amount of their contracts in the stock of the company, they will be able to grade a greater distance; and, from all we can learn, we have no doubt that their means will be much increased should the Tennessee portion of the road be speedily commenced and vigorously prosecuted.

After much care and labor, three or four different routes having been surveyed, and resurveyed, it was determined, a short time since, to run the Edgefield and Kentucky road through the towns of Goodlettsville and Springfield, and by Sam's Ford on Red river, to the Kentucky line, upon conditions which will certainly be complied with. At a recent conference between the Presidents of the two roads, a satisfactory conclusion was arrived at as to the extension of the route from Sam's Ford, in this State, to Trenton, the Southernmost point already fixed of the Kentucky portion of the road-and thus the whole line from Nashville to Henderson has, in effect, been located.

The cost of the Edgefield and Kentucky Railroad is estimated at about $1,300,000, the distance being about 48 miles. Of this sum the following amounts have been already ob-

Subscription by the County of Davidson, $200,000 Do by individuals, To be increased conditionally, Aid from the State. 480,000 Making, $855,000

Of which, it is reasonable to calculate, that $800,000 will be collected.

Propositions have been submitted to the Directory, we understand, by contractors, who come highly recommended as responsible and reliable men, to build the entire road and take one-fourth of the cost in the stock of the company. The same terms, we doubt not, could be procured from individual citizens, living on the line of the road, who might be willing to take contracts, should the Directory deem it best to adopt the plan so successfully pursued by the Chattanooga and the Mobile and Ohio companies. In either case, onefourth of the cost being taken in the stock of the company, a balance of, say $200,000, must be obtained amongst the citizens of Nashville and Edgfield and their vicinity to make up the amount necessary to accomplish this highly important work. Can this be done? We think it can and ought to be.

We propose, hereafter, to continue this subject, not only with such remarks as may occur to us, but with extracts from reports which have been made by intelligent men in reference to the commercial advantages of this road, as well as to the rich and inexhaustible coal fields through which it will pass.

Abbott Lawrence.

Our telegraphic despatches have announced the death of this distinguished gentleman, which occurred at his residence in Boston on Saturday last. Mr. Lawrence was born in Groton, Mass., in December, 1792, where he remained until his sixteenth year. When a poor boy, without two dollars in cash, he walked down to Boston, immediately sat about making his livelihood, was frugal, industrious, and business like, being so successful that in a few years, in company with his brother, he became an importing merchant .-Afterwards, relinquishing this business, he invested large sums in manufactures; was one of the founders of Lowell, and succeeded in accumulating a large fortune. He was a memtern boundary question, and in 1849 was appointed Minister to England. He was a man of immense wealth, having accumulated it all by dint of industry and talent. Of his great benevolence the world is advised; among his chief charities having been the munificent gift of fifty thousand dollars to the Harvard University, at Cambridge.

He was a true nobleman-a genuine off-shoot from the virtuous old Puritan stock.

I. O. O. F .- The annual session of the R. W. Grand Lodge of the United States will be opened at Baltimore on the 17th of September. The delegates from Tennessee are Maj. E. A. Raworth and Thos. T. Smiley, Esq.

The Know Nothings seek to console themselves by the assertion that Gov. Johnson owes his election to the foreign vote. The assertion is not in accordance with the facts. We do not believe that his majority. His largest losses were in those localities where there are the most foreigners, and his largest gains where there are the least. His

The Union's facts are most unfortunate for its argument and that of Gov. Johnson, alledging the harmlessness of foreign influence. It shows that Johnson's losses are mainly in those localities where the foreign population Phil. H. Wallace, is largest, and its baneful influence at the polls, James M. Can we prevail upon the True Whig to answer us this question: If the party which ran Col. Gentry for Governor in the late election is a new party, posed of men of both parties, why is not the election of Col. Johnson to the Senate in this county as much a gain to the new party as the election Brien to the House in De Kalb county ?- Union and American. We see nothing about the Union's question particularly perplexing or intricate. For the sake of brevity and convenience it is desirable to have some standard in the past, however arbitrary, by which to estimate degrees of comparitive success or defeat. Hence when we say the Americans have gained in De Kalb, or elsewhere, we mean they have gained as compared with the known whig strength, whatever that was, two years ago. When in like manner we say the Anti-Americans have gained in McNairy or elsewhere, we mean they have gained as compared with the strength of the so-called democracy two years ago: Americanism being the essentially controlling question of this canvass. Literally and strictly speaking, every member in the American ranks is party had but lately no existence in Tennessee But then we have a right to adopt for convenience, such a comparative standard as we have above indicated.

For the Nashville True Whig. Speaker of the next House of Representatives -A. M. Looney, Esq.

MR. EDITOR :- We believe it is reliably ascerthe next House of Representatives of our State and in four of them Representatives to Coneither party, so well fitted for that important and titled in the aggregate to twenty-three memresponsible position as A. M. Looney, Esq., the bers. The elections will take place as follows: able and cloquent Representative for the counties of Maury, Williamson and Lewis, Mr. Looney unites, in an eminent degree, all those high qualifications requisite to fit a man to discharge faithfully and efficiently the heavy labors and arduous duties of an office so important, difficult and responsible, and while this is his first term of Legislative experience, yet he is thoroughly acquainted with parliamentary rules and usuages, and with his long experience as a lawyer of extensive practice. his quick and prompt decision, sound judgment and courteous and gentlemanly bearing, we regard him in every respect as being the best qualified member of the next Legislature, (with the exception of Gov. NEIL S. BROWS, who of course does not wish the position,) for Speaker of the House.

Mr. Looner is a man of splendid talents and of great personal popularity. During the late contest he canvassed thoroughly three counties, and discussed with great ability and unbounded success, the principles of the American party. He was opposed by Hon. WM. H. POLK, an able and popular anti, and besides being confined to his bed, the latter part of the canvass, he ran far ahead of his party! Had the American question been discussed with equal ability and in the same eloquent manner in every county in the State, we would have carried the State by at least 20,000 majority. We trust that Mr. Looney will be rewarded for his services, by an election to the Speakership of the next House. a manner in every way acceptable to the members. tion in our State Legislature. Let him be elected. Banner please copy.

The First Annual State Fair of the State Agricultural Bureau is to be held at this place, commencing on the first of October, and continuing one week. The fact seems heretofore not to have attracted sufficient attention. It should be recollected that from $2,000 to $3,000 in premiums is to be given for the best specimens of the growth, produce or manufacture of the State of Tennessee. The experience of the last Fair, which was a new thing to most of the managers, will be of advantage in the arrangement of this, and exhibitors and competitors for prizes, can rely upon enjoying the best possible advantages in the disposition of their stock and such articles as may be sent Miners and Manufacturer's Bank.

The Knoxville Whig in publishing the card of the President and Cashier of this Bank says: We have stated that the President and Cashier were honest and correct men, above suspicion, and that their management of the Bank would be correct, and we say so still.
